— Observandum —

For all ordained Froth=Blowers and all
Affiliated Communities devoted to the Tankard=Lifting Crafts and Arts.

1. No toasts to be accorded to, or honoured by, any member or guest adopting a prone or recumbent position.
2. Lager Beer is not considered to be eligible as an implement of work in the profession of a genuine Froth Blower. It is unseemly and should be avoided always excepting by Naval Officers visiting German Colonies (if any). British Lager is permissable.
3. All tankards should be tilted towards the mouth and not the ear.
4. On no account should water be poured or left in any tankard. Many Deaths and Apoplectic seizures having resulted from this Unpardonable Crime.
5. Froth Blowers, when fraternally blowing, are to remain seated, excepting only on the sudden entrance of the following,—Bombs or High Explosives, Money Lenders, Defaulting Bookmakers, Conscientious Objectors, Treacle Benders Apprentices, swarms of Bees or Bugs and Bits of Fluff. In the event of any unusual occurrence the judgment and good taste of the Senior Froth Blower will suffice.
6. For the benefit of unseasoned F.B's. three gulps to the pint and fourteen to the gallon are customary. A little latitude is allowed on Guest Nights and on Declarations of Peace or War or Both.
7. F.B's, if unable to sing or are ordered to abstain from trying to sing, are advised to croon (softly). This produces Aridity of the Palate and Œsophagus.

8. Aspiring F.B's. invalided out of, or Blackballed by other communities, by reason of Borborygmus, are eligible for election, assuming always that they juxtapose themselves near the piano or gramophone.

9. Weird and wonderful rules, invented for the maintenance of good order and amusement of F.B's, may be sent to the Hon. Sec., for circulation and general observance.

10. A.O.F.B. cuff links will be worn on all ceremonial occasions. "Crossing the Barman" is unceremonial and links should be removed with shirt.

11. A.O.F.B. cuff links will not be worn with Oxford Bags or Borstal Blazers. Special permits are issued for wearing A.O.F.B. links in the U.S.A.

12. Under penalty of drinks round, A.O.F.B. cuff links must be worn on all occasions of festivity, or thirst.

13. A.O.F.B. cuff links need not be worn under the following circumstances:—

When there is only water or cocoa on the table and no beer within 125 miles radius.

When undergoing Surgical Operations,
Pack Drill, Competing for Light Weight Boxing Championship, Riding Favourite in the Derby, Testing Giant Super Bombers, Playing Crown and Anchor, Picking Pockets and other Kindred Sports for which a Blue is not awarded.

SPECIAL. On presenting this Card at any London Theatre or Music-hall, the Member will be allowed to enter subject to a slight formality at the Box Office.

"Lubrication in Moderation."

A.O.F.B's London Calling!—

A total sum of £10,000 has now been handed to Sir Alfred Fripp (A.O.F.B. No. 1) from our funds for the benefit of his "Wee Waifs." A healthy balance remains for financing the Pennant, Tie, Links and Booklet Accounts.

Blowers will note that our Motto is "Lubrication in Moderation."

Nearly 2,500 Pennants are flying on A.O.F.B's. Cars and Prams and all Blowers are expected to give the approved salute (vide page 10).

Booklet No 100,000 was auctioned by Tornado Davy Burnaby (Co-optimists) and was secured by Mrs. Jack Hylton for the sum of £76

The Links are now being made under a newly patented process and breakages are practically eliminated.

The Hon. Sec. on behalf of the A.O.F.B. thanks the "Sporting Times," "Era," "Westminster Gazette," "Daily Sketch," Carmelite Provincials "John Bull" and many others for their kind references, notices, and helpful recruiting.

Weekly News of the A.O.F.B. will be found in "The Sporting Times" (our official organ). The Editor of "The Car and Golf" Magazine will also broadcast interesting items every month.

"Lubrication in Moderation."

"Lubrication in Moderation."

A.O.F.B. Motorists flying the Pennant should salute similar Members by bringing the left arm smartly to the side and drawing the fore-finger and thumb across the mouth in a soldierly and alert manner. For cars with left-handed drive, reverse above motions. Four quick even hoots may also be previously sounded.

The new Motor Mascots are stocked in London by Lieut.-Col. P. C. Saunders (Monsoon, A.O.F.B.), Auto Auctions, Ltd., Horseferry Road, Westminster, 25/- post free. Motor Cycle size 15/-

Penalties for non-production of Cuff Links shall not be enforced if the challenged party can produce a Badge of Rank, and a holder of a Badge of Rank may not challenge any party unless he is wearing Links when challenging.

No charge is made for any badges. They are priceless, and are awarded for recruiting only.

Special Reminders:

Don't send names of recruits or likely recruits without their subscriptions. They will NOT be attended to.

Orders for Pennants and Ties MUST be sent to the Heraldic Typhoon FRANK BOWERMAN, 80, Palmerston Road, Southsea, Hants.

Orders for Tankards with Blower's Links and Blaster's or Tornado's Badges welded thereon MUST be sent to THE BIRMINGHAM MEDAL Co., LTD., Summerhill Terrace, Birmingham. Cigarette Cases, Sporting Trophies, etc., may be had on application to the same firm. Also Dress Waistcoat Buttons, silver and blue enamel set of 4 (A.O.F.B.), 5/- Set.

VERY SPECIAL.

Write the Names of your Recruits IN THE MORNING and we MAY be able to read them correctly. Don't give subscriptions to strangers.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

An ancient Drinking Vessel has been found under the foundations of 145, Cheapside. Originally this was the site of a Roman Chariot Garage. The words are inscribed on the Tankard and literally translated mean "The Boat, let it be started on a voyage."

The present occupant of above address says

"SHOVE THE BOAT OUT, BLOWERS"

but is adopting the above inscription as his motto.

As so many ladies are insisting on joining the A.O.F.B., a neat wristlet is now available if preferred to links. Blue enamel on a silver medallion mounted on a neat black moire wrist band. Ladies will not be expected to attend "Vat" Meetings, but Bohemian Concerts, Dances and Whist Drives will no doubt be arranged by local "Vat" Secretaries.

The cost of advertising the A.O.F.B., has now reached the stupendous sum of Fourteen Shillings and Sixpence. This is the total amount paid out since the creation of the Ancient Order.

F. T. Goulding & Co., Ltd., London.

We have supplied the A.O.F.B. with 64,000 complete Booklets since June 1st, 1926, price, including electros, sketches, proofs, etc., 6½d. each. Our account has been settled to date, November 10th, 1926.

Signed F. T. Goulding & Co. Ltd.

The Birmingham Medal Co.,

We have made and delivered to Mr. Bert Temple from June 1st, 1926 up to November 10th, 1926, 64,000 sets of solid silver Cuff Links at 2/8 per pair. Our account has been paid up to date, November 10th, 1926.

Signed H. S. Turner, The B. M. Co.

The Froth Blowers' Anthem

will be sung whenever Blowers fraternize.

PROCEDURE.

The Senior Blower present will stand as erectly as possible, and with tankard clutched tightly in the right hand. He will then give the order—

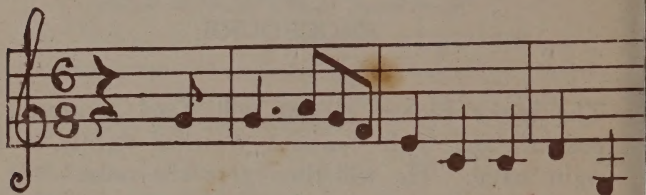

“Try the Pipes.”

The Pipes will then be tried as loudly as possible and with maximum sonorousness, the S.B. waving the tankard in a slow, graceful, timing movement.

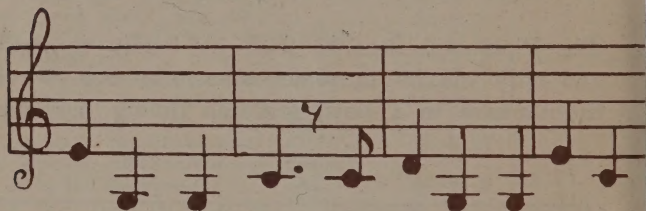

The pipes having been tried and probably found harsh and flat, lubrication is indicated, after which pipe trials should be repeated until the S.B. signals perfection or falls down. The main theme is then proceeded with and all ranks will burst into a cacophonous harmony (see overleaf).

The Ancient Orders and Rules for VATS

The word VAT will be used for discriminating the Gatherings, Meeting Places and Haunts of A.O.F.B.'s.

Motor Mascot.

These Rules will be Usually Observed at all Vats and Formal Gatherings of Froth Blowers. They may be substantially altered or added to in order to comply with local conditions at the discretion of the Senior Blowers in charge.

The assembled Blowers will take their seats at the Festive Board according to their rank or booklet number; the higher the number, the greater the distance from the Liquid Refreshment.

The Senior Blower (or higher rank) will then inspect his immediate surroundings, making sure that he is amply equipped with tankards (full), a pavior's beetle or piffle-snonger, cash or oast box, cork screw, thumb screw, booklet, pennant and other Froth Blower's implements deemed necessary to preserve dignity and order. Before any ceremony is permitted all tankards or glasses must be filled.

1. After all are seated the S.B. will appoint a hefty sub-assistant vice-gargler who will create silence when necessary.

2. A crypt-like damp silence having been obtained, the S.B. will give the command.

SHOOT YOUR LINEN, BLOWERS !

All Blowers will then jerk both arms to the table, to their immediate front, and at the same time using sufficient energy to fully expose BOTH cuff links. The S.B. will inspect the cuffs of his neighbour on his left side. This action will then be carried out automatically round the table. Any irregularity to be instantly reported and the defaulter to stand up to receive sentence.

3. PENALTIES.—For total absence of both links, a round of drinks, or if in the opinion of the S.B. such penalty be excessive owing to the number of Blowers present, a suitable fine may be placed in the oast box. The defaulter also shall have his beer served in an egg-cup for one hour precisely. No limit to number of cups consumed.

For the absence of one link only, the defaulting Blower shall sing the Blower's Anthem, at once, by himself, without accompaniment and in an audible manner, with the offending cuff held above his head. The Blowers present will preserve a contemptuous silence. Broken links if complete not to be penalised.

In the event of a senior-blower-in-charge, or higher rank if present, being found lacking the two complete links, he must pay for a complete round of drinks (or suitable fine) and sing the Blower's Anthem to a complete stranger over the telephone. The telephone number shall be determined by the sub-assistant vice-gargler who will jab a corkscrew into the telephone book for purposes of elimination. Should the senior only possess one complete link he shall pay a suitable fine. This fine to be doubled should he not carry out the following sentence. He must retire for a brief space of time, during which he shall reverse his trousers, coat, collar and tie, back to front and vice-versa. After general inspection he may "about turn." The assembled Blowers meanwhile assuming a blasphemous silence.

The above penalties to be considered as the punishment for grave irregularities. Other punishments of a more flippant and humorous nature will be left to the discretion of the S.B. All Blowers present will probably suggest other suitable penalties for lesser crimes.

4. After link inspection and penalties are completed the toast of the evening "Sir Alfred and Lady Fripp and Ye Ancient Order of Froth Blowers" will be announced. The S.B. will then "Try the Pipes" and conduct the "F.B.'s Anthem."

5. General business, gargling and mutual recriminations will then commence sandwiched with songs, fights and diversions generally.

6. The National Anthem will absolutely terminate the proceedings. Any Blower not participating in same to be deprived of his links and booklet and his dollar returned to him in farthings, stamps, francs, etc., with suitable compound interest.

7. Badges of rank will at all times excuse absence of links.

8. The Subscription is for Life Membership and further subs will not be expected. Fines and donations may be garnered at the discretion of "Vat" members if unanimously agreed upon.

9. Fines should be levied for late attendance, early retirement, extreme silence, moaning at the bar, chewing the fat, breaking furniture, upsetting perfectly good beer, tripping the waiters, chucking bread, corks or pianos at the S.B., singing the anthem in a flat, sharp, tired or pathetic manner, and all other breaches of local etiquette according to individual vat arrangements.

10. The Oast box when full or (at the discretion of the S.B.) of a sum suitable for Blower No. 1 (Sir Alfred Fripp) to personally acknowledge, should be conveniently forwarded to No. 1 with the Vats Greetings.

11. Any communist, murderer, welsher, conscientious objector or other vermin attending any meeting to be instantly ejected and a dose of Veramon (Dimethylaminophenyldimethylpyrazolondiethylmalonylurea) forcibly administered.

12. New members awaiting delivery of regalia, etc., not to be tortured.

LUBRICATION IN MODERATION.

You are the proud possessor of a 1-man power internal combustion engine. Easy with the fuel and don't lubricate from the pump. Remember what over lubrication will do to your motor. Overheated and strained engine, sticky valves, clogged throttle, dirty contacts, slack control, unsightly body and general loss of power, value and trustworthiness. The British human motor requires regular and reasonable lubrication and British Beer in moderation is the best for British machines.

USE PROPER LUBRICANTS.

Hops are fruits of the earth and are Nature's genuine tribute to the human engine. Spirits are not comparable to Beer, but are useful for tanning leather, coats of stomachs, livers and other vitals.

Excessive use of spirits will corrode the works and a moderate use of same is only beneficial to ancient or worn-out engines.

BRITISH BEER FOR BRITONS.

When desirable Provincial Vats may allocate up to two-thirds of the contents of the Oast Box to very deserving and urgent Local Charities, but the sanction of H.Q. should be requested as a matter of form and out of courtesy to the origin of the Ancient Order.

The question of having an Annual Subscription crops up so frequently that it is desirable to point out that this would be contrary to the contract made with all Members when joining the A.O.F.B. Members desiring to suitably acknowledge their loyalty to the A.O.F.B. at yearly or other regular intervals are cordially invited to put their tribute in the nearest Oast Box (as per Vat addresses in this booklet). The entire contents of every Oast Box goes, like every other donation which is received, to charity solid, without any deduction whatever.

Don't send to Bert for this or you will receive the "HYMN OF HATE"

In our Last Issue 100 Guineas were offered to any Froth Blower who solved our ingenious puzzle:—

“WHAT DOES THE ABOVE PICTURE REPRESENT” ?

Any competitor not giving a correct answer to be expelled from the Ancient Order.

RESULT.—A.O.F.B. No. 0. Begs to announce that 59,999 correct replies were received and only one incorrect.

The correct answer was:—

“A BASS LABEL STUCK ON A CANTEEN
SERGEANT'S TENT NEAR A PYRAMID.”

Our Office Charlady sent in the incorrect solution. She put “Paramour” instead of “Pyramid.”

The PRIZE therefore of 100 Guineas has been kindly presented by the actual donors

Messrs. BASS, RATCLIFF & GRETTON, Ltd.,
Burton on Trent.

TO THE “WEE WAIFS” FUND.

Received the sum of One Hundred Guineas
From Messrs. BASS, RATCLIFF & GRETTON, Ltd.

Signed ALFRED FRIPP,

Brother in Froth

Having subtly inveigled 100 Embryologic Blowers into the Arts Mysteries and Crafts of—

We Ancient Order of Froth Blowers

His memory will surely be forever verdant in the annals of this community. His virtues shall be chanted in all such divers places as Brewing Corporates and Maltster's Synods forgather. Perchance even as long as verminous aliens are permitted and encouraged to draw the dole will his name be revered in all true British homes and asylums.

TAKE HEED therefore and acclaim, with full fraternal honours, the dignity conferred unto this zealous Blaster and ex-Blower. He has been ordained to the noble and seemly eminence of (Here follows the authorised service for the formal segregation of a Tornado.

LET US SING (to any old tune)

Rude Boréas, swaying the nodding Cypress trees

Greet Flower, Blaster and Tornado of the damped F.B.'s

And Grand Typhoon, who zephs with dollarated clutch,

Breeze gaily on and put the wind up, ... much.—B.T.

The Tornado will now pay for unlimited beer, after which the FROTH BLOWERS' ANTHEM should be burred.

The Senior Blower present will then read in a bitter, bass or stout manner, as follows:—

Oh! Tornado! You have worthily joined that noble band of patriots who have achieved something for Britain. In garnering riches in the cause of charity you have won a precarious position on the sticky end of our spool of fame. Your name is now inscribed in letters of jasponyx on the eternal defaulters list amongst whom are the following:

RENOWNED "TORNADOS"

NAME

SERVICES RENDERED TO THE A.O.F.F.B.

- LORD FOULMOUTH, D.D., who discovered a silencer for loudspeakers. Lady Foulmouth is now permanently exploring the ether.
- Mr. CUSSEDARD-BIRD who devised the non-wobbling blanc mange and the no-dither jellies.
- MAJOR-GENERAL WORTHINGTON who invented a pocket beer compass, a super-sensitive boxed needle automatically pointing to the nearest beer bottle, barrel or brewery within a radius of 150 miles.
- Mr. RASTUS K. HOOTCH of Malt Lake City, Utah, U.S.A., who whispered his opinion that America assisted the allies to win the war.
- BARON HERRING who built the "Kiptex," a practical household instrument for determining the sex of kippers.
- Mr: BENNY DICTINE of Belcherville, Essex, for his wonderful synthetic cucumbers with adjustable windcreens.
- SIR PYE ORREAR who constructed the first luminous dental plates in order to save gas and banish lip-sticks.
- COLONEL BATTI BRAINBIN who devised a dictaphone for deaf mutes.
- CATSWHISKER JOE who murdered the official responsible for the words "anticyclone" and "shallow depression" as used hourly by the British Broadcasting Co.
- GENERAL WHIFF who breeds non-lachrymatory onions.
- HON. DUNLOP SPEARMINT who invented edible garters and camisole straps, plain patterns in liquorice or spaghetti, fancy in strips of pickled tripe.
- Mr. BUD CUCKOOSPIT who was awarded the "Abol" peace prize for his famous book "Blighter London."
- Mr. SLOGAN BERRY who recited "Eat More Fruit at the Covent Garden Synagogue.
- Pay Officer McWINDY, R.N., who devised an anchor (for bookies) provided with automatic releasing gear suitably timed to act half an hour after the last race.
- Eng. Com. BELL-WETHER, R.N.R., who invented the Piffle-snorker, a delicate instrument made out of a petrified vegetable marrow, which, when daintily trimmed with puce bombazine, can be used to crash alarumm clocks, two minutes before the durned things go off.
- Some of the Privileges of a Tornado.—He may slay with impunity any small sized persons singing the "Reds" Anthem. He must be the last to leave the room in case of fire or a stampede for drinks. He may stand drinks (including vodka) with any or all monies he may receive from Russia. When dining with royalty he is permitted to mix his salad in an empty tankard and refer to the salt as "Lot's Wife." He must not blow froth over a rotten "turn up" by his partner at bridge. He will be allowed to collect from time to time all he honestly (or otherwise) can for the "Wee Waifs" Fund which is controlled absolutely by Sir Alfred Fripp. No. 1.

All BLOWERS should memorize the

QUALIFICATIONS, PRIVILEGES & PENALTIES

OF A Blaster A.O.F.B.

He must procure the cash of 25 new members to the A.O.F.B. He must be British and be proud of it. He must always carry a corkscrew. He must always lisp when ordering a "Bass" so that other A.O.F.B.'s may at once recognise his rankness. He must doff his bonnet to all pawnbrokers' signs and brewers' drays. He will act, if requested, as godfather to any hopper's child, always provided however that the child be born in the hopfield (Kent only) where its father is actually and actively employed. It is desirable that the child's mother also should be present. A Blaster must not eat whelks with a steel fork, chew the date off his railway tickets, eat asparagus with boxing gloves on, or drink Kruschen out of a quart tankard.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES

On exhibiting his ornament, he will be allowed without let or hindrance, fee or monetary liability :—

1. To visit Epsom, Goodwood, Oskosh and Pzmyzsl race courses during all meetings (enclosures excepted).
2. To view the boat-race, aerial derby, Wapping regatta, all solar and lunar eclipses and all local dog fights.
3. To assist at lynchings, mothers' meetings, undertakers' beanfeasts, winkle slaughterers' the dansants, embalmers' whist drives, bookmakers' burials, stockbrokers' cowheel and tripe suppers, post mistresses civility classes, curates' crown and anchor crèches, seweremens' school of languages, midwives' dart clubs, Billinggate crossword competitions, crematoria rapping parties, Aunt Tabitha's sweet pea competitions, poultice wallopers' inquests, etc.

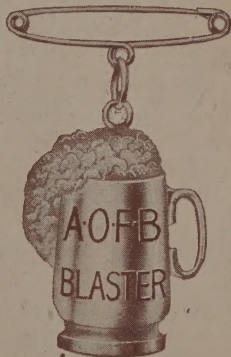

VERY SPECIAL PRIVILEGE.

The Blaster will consider it his especial duty and privilege to AID OUR "WEE WAIF" CHARITIES to the best of his ability.

Oyez! Oyez! Oyez!

LISTEN TO AN AWARD MADE BY

The Ancient Order of Froth Blowers

A sociable and cheerful law-abiding fraternity of absorptive BRITONS who sedately consume and who quietly enjoy with commendable regularity and frequentation the truly British malted beverage as did their forbears and as Britons ever will, please God.

And be damned to all Pussyfoot hornswogglers from overseas and including Brachistocephalic (low brows) T.T.'s and M.P.'s and J.P.'s, and not excluding nose parkers, mock religious busy-bodies, and suburban fool-hens all of which are structurally of solid bone from chin up.

Oyez! Oyez! To all whom it may concern, and others, this gyptic scree'd certifies that

Blower

(of charitable intent)

FOR DEVOTION TO DUTY

has been gravitated to the beerage; he will henceforth sign all I.O.U.'s with a corkscrew and will assume the title of

—Blaster—

He has also honourably won the BLASTER'S EMBLEM, a massive and costly jewel of pure silver and of deft craftsmanship portraying one "pot d'argent avec froth rampant." The apt symbolicalness coupled with its supreme rarity causes this jewel to be rightly regarded as the 'Ultima Thule' of all beer manipulators.

Instructions as to Correct Display of Decoration.—The Blasters Emblem is to be worn on the left lapel at all Froth Blowers' Gatherings and affiliated Beer Festas. When dining in shirtsleeves it will be worn in the front of the cap. This only applies to civilians. Service members will wear the decoration immediately after the V.C. and preceding the Doubtful Contact Medal. During bathing parades and inspections the jewel should be firmly affixed to the starboard bosom by means of a wad of well masticated chewing gum.

Ex-soldiers, lead-swingers, scroungers, pensioners, never-sweats, crown and anchor philanthropists and other four-flushers may affix this decoration to their cigar cases, tankards, dope boxes, book makers satchels, wooden legs, false eyes, knuckle dusters, flasks or feeding bottles, revolvers, jemmies, etc., but are respectfully ordered to remove same before pawing operations commence.

No. 0.

December 24th 1926.

19, Portland Place, London, W.1

My Froth Blowers,

The amazing sum of Ten Thousand Pounds from Ye Ancient Order of Froth Blowers has now been entrusted to my care for the benefit of the WEE WAIFS and in order that they may grow up and provide the nation with an adult population less hampered by circumstances than their forebears.

Not a farthing of this wonderful and charitable effort of yours will be wasted or needlessly expended. Both Lady Fripp, my daughters and myself will personally supervise the expenditure of every penny which you have so generously provided.

Hearty thanks and cordial greetings to all Fairy Belles, Blowers, Blasters, Tornados, Typhoons, and other high ranks of my cheerful and charitable fraternity of Froth Blowers and it's up to you to multiply our membership by ten during 1927.
